Town to get cut price parking deal trial

CAMPAIGNERS' SUCCESS IN PERSUADING COUNCIL TO INCLUDE SEATON

SEATON has been added to the list of towns in East Devon where motorists can benefit from a trial of cut price parking deals.

The news comes after Seaton businesses and organisations clubbed together to fight for a fair deal for the town, after they were initially left out of the trial.

As reported last week, a petition distributed throughout Seaton led to a meeting with East Devon District Council representatives.

Subsequently EDDC officials have confirmed that a trial period of up to a maximum of six months - which started last week - will offer customers using Seaton's long stay car park in Harbour Road the opportunity to park from 1pm right through to midnight

- on any day - for just £3. Councillor Phil Twiss, EDDC's Deputy Cabinet Member for Environment, said: "We were pleased to agree to a request from Seaton Town Council that their town should be added to this trial.

"We want to do everything possible to support local businesses in this difficult economic climate and we hope that this offer will help visitors to stay a little longer and spend a little more time exploring everything that Seaton and the surrounding area has to offer.

"Our usual tariff in this car park is £1 per hour and in 2011 we capped that charge at £6 for up to 24 hours.

"In addition we are now pleased to offer visitors the chance to stay from 1pm all afternoon (right through to midnight if they wish) for the special price of just £3."

Axminster, Honiton, Sidmouth and Exmouth have already been advised they will benefit from deals in specific local car parks aimed at encouraging longer visits to town centres and visitor attractions.

"We do have to generate enough money from parking to keep services running and Council Tax frozen.

"Hopefully these offers will be the best of both worlds: more people parking, lower costs for motorists and the same income to support local services."

It aims to boost local trade and keep high streets healthy whilst not reducing the parking income EDDC receives, as this is used to fund essential local services and keep Council Tax the lowest in Devon.

Meanwhile, people who use East Devon's off-street car parks regularly and want year-round good value are being encouraged to purchase parking permits.

East Devon's permits remain among the cheapest like-for-like in the county, despite a recent 10 to 15 per cent increase in cost across its range of permits.

The offers have been created in consultation with town councils and local Chambers of Trade following requests from Chambers of Trade for free parking incentives.

The results of the trials will be closely charted so the council can decide whether or not it can make the offers available

in more places and/or as a permanent deal.

Councillor Twiss added: "This is good news for residents and visitors which we hope will encourage more people to come and enjoy our towns, seafronts, shops and attractions over the busy summer months.

£154 (or £91 for 6 months);

● East Devon District Permit £185 (or £106 for 6 months);

● Resident's Permit £35. People can buy permits online at: www.eastdevon.gov.uk/carpark\_permits or by phone on 01395 571780.

Elizabeth Road playpark to re-open Saturday

A SPECIAL opening event to celebrate the revamp of the Elizabeth Road playpark will take place this Saturday (April 6th) from 11am until 2pm.

All are welcome to come along to the event, which will showcase the £42,000 update including a new Olympic basket swing, climbing walls and frames, spinning swings and a 'rota roka'.

Alongside the new additions to the play park, visitors to the grand opening will also have the chance to enjoy face painting, a bouncy castle and circus skills, all free of charge.

FORTY YEARS OF COLLECTING FOR THE POPPY APPEAL
Chairman of the Royal British Legion Women's Section and standard-bearer for Beer, Yvonne Hawker, is awarded for 40 years of collecting for the Poppy Appeal by organiser, Peter Anderson

A LONG-serving Poppy Appeal supporter from Beer has been awarded the '40-year bar' for service to the charity.

Chairman of the Royal British Legion Women's Section in Beer and standard-bearer, Yvonne Hawker, was presented with her award by poppy appeal organiser, Peter Anderson, last Thursday.

During her time with the Royal British Legion, Mrs Hawker has also dedicated 19 years to the role of chairman and has spent more than 25 years as the main standard bearer for Beer.

On receiving her bar, Mrs Hawker said: "I started collecting in 1972 just after I was married and have carried on ever since.

"It has been a pleasure collecting all these years, and I look forward to continuing my work with the Royal British Legion."

Mr Anderson added: "I'd like to congratulate Yvonne on receiving her bar for 40 years of poppy appeal collecting."

"This is a fantastic achievement and shows real service to the community and to the Royal British Legion."

This Saturday (April 6th) members of the Royal British Legion Women's Section will be holding their annual coffee morning from 10am until 12noon at the Mariners Hall, Beer.

During the event, a number of traders from the village will also be awarded with certificates for 30 years of support to the Poppy Appeal.

Nine men Vikings hold The Tigers

THE wintry weather nightmares were shifted to one side for last weekend's fixtures with no postponements to report, so there was plenty of action over the Easter weekend which had some crucial games being played.

Sidmouth Town picked up their second point in two games when they drew 2-2 in controversial circumstances with local rivals Axminster Town.

Towns' second-half fightback earned them a point in a game which saw them finish with nine men due to two sendings off.

The south-east Peninsula League side remain rock bottom with six points and were scheduled to travel to 11th placed Totnes & Dartington yesterday in the hope of continuing there best form this season.

Axminster stay in eighth place.

In the Devon & Exeter Premier Feniton comfortably beat title rivals Hatherleigh Town 4-1 in what was a must-win game for Feniton who, despite playing one more game, lead the top division by one point.

AFTER a couple of rest weeks the AVR gang were out in force over the Easter period.

The seven-mile Kilmington Kanter on Good Friday proved to be very good for the club as AVR landed the first three places.

Tim Lenton led for much of the race being tracked by Matt Clist and Alex Todd. Tim maintained his lead going up the steep hill from Shute Barton after five miles, but Matt finally managed to overhaul him in the last mile to win in 42:30 with Tim 16 seconds adrift. 3rd placed Alex completed in 43:56.

Luke Reed ran well to finish 7th in 47:47, grabbing the first "local runner" prize.

The Nightrunner is a night time seven-mile excursion into the 'back of beyond' around Beer and Branscombe and has a twisting torch lit route over undulating farmland, strength sapping upward steps towards the starry heavens, shingle beach and exposed cliff top.

There were 80 finishers and Michael Robinson of Tamar Trotters and AVR Matthew Clist crossed the finishing line together in a brilliant time of 44.47.

AXMINSTER

Left for dead but no arrests

A MAN who nearly died after being assaulted will not get his day in court.

The Crown Prosecution Service (CPS) has decided there will be no further action against the individuals who allegedly attacked Terry Barker in Axminster.

Mr Barker, who runs a shoe repair business in Silver Street, suffered a broken skull and a catalogue of other injuries when assaulted outside a pub on Friday December 21st.

It was one of two major incidents in Axminster that evening.

Mr Barker spent several days in hospital in intensive care and was unable to work for weeks because of the injuries he suffered.

A police investigation was launched and a number of people were interviewed under caution in connection with the incident.

A file was subsequently sent to the CPS, which has decided there will be no further action.

It is understood the decision was taken because of a lack of evidence/witnesses.

The attack is said to have developed from an incident in Axminster Inn, and it is alleged that Mr Barker was held in a headlock and repeatedly kicked in the head by others.

Apart from a broken skull, he also suffered eight broken ribs, two punctured lungs and several broken fingers.

He was rushed to Musgrove Park Hospital in Taunton where he was released after treatment.

But the severity of his injuries did not become apparent until he returned home to Axminster where his condition deteriorated rapidly and he was rushed by ambulance to Dorchester Hospital where he spent some time in intensive care.

DC Chris Willsdon of Honiton CID led the investigation.

For legal reasons he is restricted in what he can say.

He did issue a brief statement, however, which said: "Such cases are always open to review and should further evidence present itself at some point in the future, the case could be reviewed with a view to a prosecution for an offence, should that further evidence assist significantly."

HONITON/East Devon

New bus service

THE introduction of new bus services will mean improved links from Honiton, Axminster and Ottery to Exeter.

Bus services for the new community of Cranbrook will be introduced by Devon County Council (DCC) on Tuesday, May 28th, and a number of towns will reap the benefits. There will be no Sunday services, though.

A DCC spokesperson said: "In line with the requirements of the planning agreement for Cranbrook, there will be a half-hourly service between Exeter and the new community, with most buses continuing to Ottery St Mary and Honiton.

"Services 4, 4A and 4B, funded by developer contributions, will replace services 60, 60A, 60B, X60 and 380 on the route between Exeter, Clyst Honiton, Cranbrook, Ottery St Mary, Honiton and Axminster.

"Devon County Council's existing funding for Service 380 along this route will also continue towards the additional services."

Beyond Cranbrook, one bus each hour (Service 4) will continue via Whimple Hand & Pen, Ottery St Mary, Alfington, Heathpark, Honiton, Wilmslow, Kilmington and Axminster to Millwey Rise and one each hour (Service 4A) will continue via Rockbeare, Marsh Green, West Hill, Ottery St Mary, Alfington, Heathpark and Rosemount Lane to Honiton.

From the editor's chair Sounds from The Bay

AS A young reporter I flirted with local radio and was a regular contributor for a while to Devon Air and after moving into management later in my career I served on a couple of groups bidding for local radio licences.

Whilst managing newspapers in London I was also involved in "Local News of London" which was a minor investor in Capital Radio.

In those days the Radio Authority, which granted the licences, insisted on the provision of chapter and verse on local content but invariably the radio station that won the licence would soon revert to being virtually a music station with very little local editorial content.

The owners of this newspaper, Tindle Newspapers Ltd, run a number of successful radio stations.

Devon is well served by BBC Radio Devon and Heart FM is an excellent and popular music station. Now - as from Good Friday - there is a third station to hit the East Devon airwaves - Bay FM, based in Exmouth and broadcasting to a large swathe of East Devon, including Sidmouth and Seaton.

I hope Bay FM lives up to the hype surrounding its launch, ie to broadcast "a host of exciting news shows with a focus on the county".

With a five-year, non-profit community licence issued by communications regulator Ofcom, Bay FM will only succeed if it delivers on that promise.

There has never been a more challenging environment in which to launch into the media scene in East Devon with all the current players fighting for an ever-decreasing advertising market and cutting costs where possible.

But community stations like Bay FM are manned by volunteer presenters and journalists and do not carry the overheads normally associated with a local radio station.

The launch of Bay FM was the culmination of a seven-year dream by station manager and co-founder Andy Green and his partner Julie, who have worked hard to get the community station off the ground.

One asset they definitely have comes in the larger than life form of the colourful chairman of Sidmouth Town Council and Devon County Councillor Stuart Hughes, an experienced disc jockey who will be presenting Bay's breakfast show. He will almost certainly attract a regular following.

Bay FM is based in Exmouth from where much of its content will come, but I hope the station will not ignore the rest of East Devon and that they will be able to boost their frequency to include the Axminster area in the future.

Andy and Julie deserve to succeed and I hope Bay FM will be blaring out over The Bay for many years to come.

EAST DEVON Grants for towns and parishes

COMMUNITIES throughout East Devon will feel the benefit of money from East Devon District Council and Devon County Council after town and parish councils successfully bid for £68,419 from the government's Parishes Together Fund.

East Devon District Council and Devon County Council worked together to put the sum of £1.10 per elector into a 'Parishes Together Fund' grants scheme that town and parish councils were able to apply for.

The funding was available to local councils working together and involving the community to try and solve local issues.

All applications had to be submitted jointly from two or more parishes. The funding could be used for anything from permanent items to events, networks and one-off costs.

The biggest sum of £20,585 went to Axmouth, Budleigh Salterton, Sidmouth, Seaton, Axmouth, Branscombe and Beer to promote the Jurassic coast as an all-seasons tourist destination.

The sum of £12,597 goes to Honiton, Awliscombe, Yarcombe, Upottery, Stockland, Broadhembury, Plymtree and Payhembury to buy boxes of equipment for a range of age groups and activities such as filming, arts and crafts and forest skills.

A significant grant of £12,494 will go to Ottery St Mary, Newton Poppleford, Talaton, Rockbeare, Aylesbeare, Feniton and Gittisham for improvement and promotion of a befriending and help scheme.

Axminster and the villages of Membury, Musbury, Uplyme, Colyton and Kilmington will receive £11,512 for a new vehicle for the popular and well run ring and ride scheme in the Axe Valley.

Other successful projects included setting up the community shop in Hawkchurch (£537); repairs to the surface of a lane and footpath in Payhembury (£814); flooding and drainage work in Beer and Axmouth; and flooding and drainage work in Dalwood and Shute.

EDDC's part of the funding came from the New Homes Bonus, which is paid by the government to the district council for every new home built or brought back into use. DCC's part of the funding came from its main budgets.

Councillor Ray Bloxham, EDDC member and chairman of the New Homes Bonus Panel, which made the decision on the applications, said: "In this time of financial need this is an important fund that we have set up jointly with Devon County Council. The standard of the projects was very high and it is great to see our parishes working together."

SIDMOUTH

Sidbury Hill to close for vital roadworks

ESSENTIAL reconstruction work will start on the A375 at Sidbury Hill next month.

Drainage works are currently ongoing on the stretch of the road from Synderborough Farm to Knapplands, with temporary traffic lights and a convoy system in place to ensure the safety of the workforce on site.

To enable reconstruction and resurfacing of the road it will be closed from Monday, April 8th to Friday, May 10th.

The road was initially closed last September to enable work to start on major drainage improvements and edge support work after two landslips had occurred on a different section of the road.

Councillor Stuart Hughes, Devon County Council Cabinet Member for Highways and Transportation, said: "This is essential work which must be carried out as soon as possible, especially as the on-going wet weather has highlighted the importance of improved drainage provided in schemes like this.

"The reconstruction work during the closure will of course be weather dependent, but every effort will be made to complete the scheme and re-open the road as soon as possible.

"Although there may be some short term inconvenience, these further improvements will provide long term benefits for people that use this route.

"I'm also pleased that a shuttle bus service will be in place throughout the period of the closure to keep disruption to a minimum."

Traffic will be diverted via the A35 Exeter Road, A30, B3177 to Ottery St Mary, Wiggaton, Tipton St John, Bowd, A3052 to Sidford and vice versa. Or alternatively via the A3052 and Seaton Road before rejoining the A375 and vice versa.

We call him Kenny, handed in as a stray from Payhembury. He is about 9 months old, with some Tabby Markings and is not neutered.

He is very friendly. Is he yours? He will be rehomed in 2 weeks if not claimed.

Beer Scouts are top cooks

A TEAM OF Scouts from Beer cooked up a storm and conquered groups from across the South West when they were deemed the winners of the Scouts' regional cooking competition.

After already coming first place in the Devon heat of the competition, the group of four Beer girls reached culinary success when their European inspired menu was deemed the best in the South West.

Beating off 12 other groups from the region, team leader Jess Clinch, Maryke Butler, Lily FitzHenry and Kate Dack wowed judges with their three-course meal with a European theme.

Using only basic camping cooking equipment such as a two-ring gas stove and simple cooking instruments, the group of budding chefs embraced their trip to Shurdington, Gloucestershire, impressing the town's local judges.

The three course meal was a starter of eggs benedict with homemade hollandaise sauce, Mediterranean herb pancakes with goats cheese and a Provençal sauce, and a dessert of Swiss poached pears sitting on a chocolate lattice topped with melted Toblerone.

This year's cooking competition was judged by two local food experts as well as head judge, Robin Dudley, head chef of the Greenway Hotel and Spa, who has a royal seal of approval.

Despite the tough competition, the group remained calm under the pressure, with team leader Jess keeping the group in order, and ensuring that all three courses were served to the table at the same time and the correct temperature under the close scrutiny of the judges.

As the end drew near, the Beer group joined hands with their fellow Devon cooks, Liverton Scouts - who came second in the Devon Heat - and in a room packed full of people were told that both groups had made the top three.

As it was announced that Liverton had come third, it only left Beer Scouts and 45th Cheltenham (Bethesda) Scouts and the group were filled with excitement.

Scout Leader for Beer Scouts, Nigel Groves, said: "At this point I looked at the group and it was amazing to see the anticipation on their faces change to absolute delight which their name was read out as coming first place in the competition.

"They just jumped up and down in the group hugging each other.

"I am just so proud of them and the dedication and hard work they have shown."

Team leader, Jess Clinch, added: "I was convinced that we had got third when they had not read our name out, but to come first is amazing and I would love to do this again next year."

Man wins battle for planter

A LONG-term fight by a Seaton man to make Seaton's pavements a safer place for pedestrians has finally been won.

Seventy-five-year-old Sidney Pember has been campaigning to prevent pedestrians from injuring themselves on an overhanging bay window on Harbour Road for nearly three years and was finally backed by Seaton Town Council last week.

After seeing many victims banging their heads on the projection, which overhangs by 18 inches and is only five foot above the ground, Mr Pember has been battling for the area to be made safer for all.

More than 100 local people from the Seaton Visually Impaired Club have supported Mr Pember after forming a petition to get the dangerous overhang removed as well as the local MP Seaton Town Council and the RNIB.

After mountains of correspondence, campaigning and research into the bay window, Mr Pember finally managed to persuade Seaton Town Council to support plans to install a planter underneath the overhang, to keep pedestrians away from the danger.

At their last full council meeting, members heard that there were two alternatives to improving the safety of the area, after Devon County Council deemed it unreasonable to ask the owners to remove the overhang.

Whilst most were already in favour of the planter, an alternative idea - a set of railings - was also considered. However Mr Pember explained that those who are visually impaired and have a guide cane could become entangled in this installment.

This view was supported by a member of the Seaton Visually Impaired Club, John Barrington Rowell, who explained the dangers of street furniture when using such a guide.

To persuade the council, Mr Pember even told councillors he would be prepared to contribute financially by giving 25 per cent of the costs for the planter.

Members agreed to ask Devon Highways to give permission to place the planter on the pavement below the bay window, which will be purchased from Taylor Made Planters at a cost of £395.

The planter will be contoured with the shape of the overhang and will act as deterrence to pedestrians, following designs drawn up and planned by Mr Pember himself.

Mr Pember was delighted that the scheme has been green lit and now hopes that Devon Highways will react quickly to the request so the planter can be installed in the near future.

He said: "I am so pleased that after much work, members of Seaton Town Council unanimously agreed to fund the planter and contact Devon Highways to ensure this work is done. I hope that from now onwards, there will be no more problems and that Devon Highways will be happy with the agreement."

"This is a health and safety matter and an issue of hazard protection and representatives of Devon Highways agreed that an alternative to removing the bay window should be found."

"This has been a big stepping stone for me in the right direction, especially with the backing of Seaton town councillor, Sharon Bruce, who is showing her support and pushing for the project to be completed as soon as possible."

New radio station opens in East Devon

BAY FM HITS THE AIRWAVES ON GOOD FRIDAY

A NEW East Devon Radio station is to launch in the local area, bringing with it a whole host of exciting new shows with a focus on the county.

After an extensive application process in 2011, the UK's communications regulators, Ofcom have granted non-profit, community station, Bay FM Radio a five-year licence.

Councillors on East Devon District Council's Development Management Committee recently backed an application for a 20-metre radio mast to be located at Withycombe Raleigh Common, which will allow the station to broadcast to wider areas in East Devon.

Manager Andy Green, co-founded the radio station, with his partner Julie, said: "We had to wait for Ofcom to clear our new frequency number which I can now confirm is 106.4 FM, and the site for our new transmitter.

"We wanted to get our mast in this location because we recognised that areas in East Devon are under served by local radio, so we're really pleased to be able to serve these areas better now from this location.

Hard work

"We've been planning this for seven years – we've had to jump through so many hoops to get it. It's amazing that we are finally launching full-time after seven years hard work."

"It's a really good achievement and it's recognition of our determination. We aim to provide

DJ STUART HUGHES – Sidmouth's very own councillor, Stuart Hughes will be hosting a breakfast show as part of the new radio station- Bay FM.

Toilets opened in time for Easter

WORK to complete the £81,000 refurbishment of public toilets at Sidmouth's Three Cornered Plot, known to some as The Triangle, has been held up by the bad weather over recent weeks.

But the toilets – and other toilets in Exmouth and Seaton that open seasonally – were all opened for the Easter holiday.

East Devon District Council has apologised for the unsightly appearance of the toilet block near Sidmouth's main bus terminus and has explained that contractors were unable to complete work on the exterior of the building because of heavy rain and, more recently, below zero temperatures.

The interior of the toilets was finished in late January and the toilets have been available for use by the public for several weeks. Rain stopped contractors rendering the outside of the building and they are now waiting for warmer, drier weather to complete the redecoration of the exterior.

The improvements include the following:

- ◆ new wall and floor finishes
- ◆ new sanitary ware
- ◆ automated hand washing units
- ◆ mechanical air ventilation
- ◆ new roof covering
- ◆ new PVCu double glazed windows
- ◆ a baby change bench in female and male toilets
- ◆ a new stormwater drain and repairs to existing foul water drains.

EDDC's workmen have done what they can to ensure that the Sidmouth toilet block looks tidy and presentable in time for the Easter holiday period.

◆With Easter falling at the end of March this year, EDDC made sure toilet blocks in towns across the district were opened after the winter break on Thursday of last week rather than April 1st as usual.

The seasonal toilets are next to the new bowling alley at Exmouth, at Orcombe Point, Exmouth, at The Maer, Exmouth, and at Foxholes and The Chine, Seaton.

an informative service to a professional standard.

"The station's frequency 106.4fm can be heard in Exmouth, Ottery St Mary, Newton Poppleford, Sidmouth and Seaton. We're really pleased with the transmitters reach so far."

An added bonus for the local area will be a daily breakfast show, hosted by none other than chairman of Sidmouth Town Council, Councillor Stuart Hughes. Mid morning, lunchtime and two afternoon shows focusing towards the forty plus age group will also be part of the station playing contemporary pop from the last 60 years, with a particular focus on 60s, 70s and 80s.

There will also be a daytime magazine show named 'Lifestyle' which will feature local organisations such as the police and the voluntary sector, with community information and focus on local issues.

Local charities and community non-profit organisations will have the opportunity to promote events, clubs and activities with hope to help many community groups and get their message or event maximised, free of charge. If you have an event you would like promoting please email the details to events@bayfm.co.uk

The station launched at midday on Good Friday.

News briefs

Looking after the Guildhall

THE 12-strong Axminster Guildhall Committee for 2013-14 was decided during the annual parish meeting on March 18th.

The committee has eight seats for town councillors and four seats for members of the public.

The eight town councillors appointed for the next term are: Graham Godbeer, Paul Hayward, Douglas Hull, Andrew Moulding, Sue Spiller, John Stevenson, Brian Watson and Rob Jordan.

The four members of the public are: Martin Spurway, Tony Fells Tim Leat and Steve Downton.

£400 oil theft

APPROXIMATELY £400 worth of heating oil has been removed from a tank at a property in the Green Lane area of Raymonds Hill, near Axminster.

The theft happened at some point from Sunday March 17th and Saturday March 23rd.

A police spokesperson said: "Would residents please be extra vigilant and regularly check your tanks and your oil levels."

"If possible, ensure a padlock is attached to your oil tank."

Anyone with information about the theft is asked to call the force switchboard on 101 and ask for Axminster police.

The crime reference is KA/13/160.

Free blood pressure tests at The Minster

THE Rotary Clubs of Axminster and The Stroke Association will offer free blood pressure tests on Thursday April 18th.

The purpose is to detect possible problems and offer appropriate advice.

Rotarian Bill Coltham said: "A team of medical workers will be waiting for you in the Minster Church from 9am to 12.30pm.

"Members of the public will be approached by Rotarians, who will be around the centre of the town wearing their Rotary tabards to identify themselves, and invited to have their blood pressure taken. At the Minster, the public will be met by a Rotary team consisting of St John Ambulance members, medical staff, and Rotary members who will greet you and advise you what is on offer.

"You will be under no pressure whatsoever by anyone to take a blood pressure test, which is simple, quick, and painless, but if you do you will receive advice from the medical staff if they feel it will help you. All service is free

Police to stage crime roadshows in villages

CRIME prevention and property marking will be on the agenda for two police roadshows.

The neighbourhood policing team based in Axminster will stage crime prevention open days in Hawkchurch and Stockland.

Hawkchurch will be first out on Saturday, April 6th when police will be based at the village hall from 9am-5pm.

A week later, on Saturday April 13th, officers will be at the village hall in Stockland from 10am-4pm.

Those attending will be offered general crime prevention advice and can bring along items like strimmers and other equipment for marking to make them less attractive to criminals.

The marking service is free of charge, and home appointments can be made for larger items.

£2,000 anonymous gift for counselling service

AN AXMINSTER charity is celebrating after receiving an anonymous donation of £2,000.

Counselling service ARC is based at Axminster Medical Practice and provides psychological therapies and support for those affected by profound and difficult changes to their lives.

This covers a wide spectrum of scenarios ranging from bereavement to serious illness and various losses.

On average, ARC helps about 200 people each year to deal with difficult times of their lives - but the figure is expected to raise sharply in the wake of mass-redundancies at Axminster Carpets.

Founding ARC trustee and psychological lead Catherine Davies, said the donation came out of the blue.

The cheque was sent from an organisation which helps people make anonymous charitable donations.

Catherine said: "I couldn't believe my eyes. It is not every day I receive a £2,000 cheque.

"It will make a huge difference.

"We are incredibly grateful for this generous donation. Every penny will be put towards helping people."

More information about ARC is available from the medical practice or online at www.arcaxminster.org

Old Chapel open evening

A REVAMPED antiques centre in Axminster is inviting members of the public to an open evening on Friday, April 5th from 6.30pm-8.30pm.

The centre has also had a name change from The Old Chapel Antiques Centre to The Old Chapel Antiques and Lifestyle Centre.

It is located in Castle Street, and spokesperson Lesley Frankau said: "We invite you to meet all our dealers, including those who have joined us recently."

"The centre now offers a more diverse selection of stock from antiques to home decor, fashion accessories and gifts.

Shute girl working with babies in South Africa

A YOUNG woman from Shute is currently in South Africa, helping seriously ill babies in a hospice.

Former Axe Valley Community College student Kirsty Webber, 19, left the UK in January for a volunteering placement at Cotlands Hospice, Western Cape.

■ KIRSTY WEBBER: "This is one of the hardest things I have ever done."

Her placement is for eight months and was organised through an organisation called The Project Trust.

Her fundraising efforts were well-documented and in a letter to update Pulman's View readers, she wrote: "It is an amazing place to be but very different from home."

"At the moment we have 30 black babies (up to four years old) to care for for."

"I am only 19 and this is one of the hardest things I have ever done."

"I work 11 hours each day and it can be a very long day when you have 30 babies to feed, who are very sick and crying all the time."

"I work with five other women on my shift, with such different views on everything compared to mine."

"They don't understand why I would volunteer to work for a year without pay."

"They have low wages, and they do the job to get paid each month to feed their own children."

"Most of the babies in Cotlands Hospice are very sick with HIV/AIDS or TB and have been sexually, physically and emotionally abused."

"I have seen and learnt how to give their medication, which has to be given every 12 hours to control the disease."

"Most of them will not survive. Some of the babies are worse than others - they vomit a lot, have diarrhoea and suffer from terrible ear infections."

"I do hospital visits with the babies so they are checked, and I'm doing the best I can."

She has previously praised everyone who supported her project in various ways, and added: "A big thank you to Anita and Paul for all their support in February and March."

Fire destroys thatched house

FIRE destroyed a thatched detached property near Kilmington on Easter Monday.

A neighbour raised the alarm at around 12 noon after seeing flames coming from the ridge of the property. It is understood that the owners were not in the property at the time.

Twelve appliances from Devon, Dorset and Somerset and 70 firefighters were sent to Hunthay

House to deal with the blaze.

Incident Commander Gavin Ellis, based in Taunton, described the blaze as "a major incident" and said that water was taken from a nearby river.

Ambulance personnel were also sent to the scene but there were no reported injuries. A team from Western Power were also on the site.

The property was extensively damaged.

St Mary's triumph in performing arts

■ AN Axminster choir triumphed in the primary school category of The Devon and Exeter Performing Arts Festival. The choir from St Mary's RC Primary School Choir took on five primary schools from the Exeter area, and finished top of the table. The choir (pictured) brought back a beautiful picture as a prize for winning the competition.

A GROUP of Axminster Young Farmers have recently completed a first aid course with Axminster St John Ambulance, training them in essential first aid skills.

Tom Stuckey, of Axminster St John Ambulance, said: "Just having a basic knowledge of first aid can make the difference between a life lost and a life saved."

"As many YFC members live or work on farms often in isolated rural areas, being able to administer first aid until help arrives can really make the difference."

Pecorama set for summer season

STAFF at Beer's Pecorama are gearing up for a jam-packed 2013, full of events as they re-open for Easter and the summer season.

With a huge programme of activities and many new events added to this year's itinerary, staff are also excited about construction works at the site, where a brand new indoor play area is set to be completed this year.

Tourism manager Mark Ridgers commented: "We are looking forward to the coming season no matter what the weather throws at us this year!"

"And the reason for this optimism? We are very pleased to advise that work started on March 4th on the construction of our new indoor play area."

"This will be a major addition to our facilities and we hope it will be ready in time for the peak season."

"Plus, we have a wide and varied programme of special events running almost every weekend from May 26th to July 14th."

"The biggest and most exciting of all being the return of our Dr Who Day, this year with the addition of a Star Wars theme as well on Sunday June 30th."

The first of Pecorama's special events for 2013 is the popular 'Peco Pirate Day', which will be held on Sunday April 14th and is set to be the best yet.

Whilst children are still being encouraged to come in pirate fancy dress and jump aboard the Poco Pirate Ship, there will be the chance to learn about Beer's infamous smuggler Jack Rattenbury and the exploits of Devonshire hero, Admiral Sir Edward Pellew.

The attraction will be joined by re-enactment group 'Society of King George the Third' - also known as SKG3 - who will be taking visitors back in time to the days of Jack Rattenbury, with a chance to see the 18th century Royal Navy and British Marines in their camp and redcoats firing flintlock muskets.

Other new events for 2013 include a giant craft fair across the entire Poco grounds and Shakespeare in the Gardens in June as well as a whole host of exhibitions, displays and charity days.

For more information on Pecorama's events visit www.pecorama.info

Tramway welcomes guests

SEATON Tramway staff prepared themselves to welcome local people to their terminus when they held a number of familiarisation events.

Aiming to promote the work of the tramway and welcome people to explore their services, tramway staff held a programme of events over two days last week.

Braving the cold, wet weather, the trams soon filled up and guests to the event enjoyed a visit to the riverside depot for a tour behind the scenes before arriving at the Colyton station.

Seaton Tramway's John Jeffrey and the Donkey Sanctuary's Dean Hancock gave some short talks, and there was also the chance to meet with the East Devon District Council Countryside Team.

Visitors enjoyed a buffet lunch, before getting the chance to enjoy a hands-on tram driving experience to Colyford.

Bumper year for Seaton panto

MEMBERS of Seaton Pantomime Society are celebrating after a bumper year and successful performances of their recent 'Jack and the Beanstalk' production.

The sell out show made a healthy profit enabling the group to donate a total of £950 to local causes and the team is already looking forward to their next production.

Two donations have been made to Seaton's Voice, with £800 going toward the new live streaming equipment, which will bring state of the art facilities to the town hall, and to Paul Hotchkiss with his lighting expertise. I decided to keep running Seaton Panto three years ago when it was about to 'fold up' and am so glad I did for I am proud of our group and what we achieve in just six weeks.

"However I couldn't do it without the 'support teams' around me, each and every person giving up their time absolutely free, chase much needed new lighting equipment for the hall.

Leader of Seaton Pantomime Society, Mary Bowles, said: "We had a great week with practically sell out audiences for each of the four performances. I have finally sorted through the finances and it has been a great result this year making a healthy profit!

"It has been great to support Seaton's Voice with both their live streaming equipment, which will bring state of the art facilities to the town hall, and to Paul Hotchkiss with his lighting expertise. I decided to keep running Seaton Panto three years ago when it was about to 'fold up' and am so glad I did for I am proud of our group and what we achieve in just six weeks.

"However I couldn't do it without the 'support teams' around me, each and every person giving up their time absolutely free, busily preparing for the production and then during show week.

"I would like to thank them all personally for helping me keep this wonderful traditional community event going.

"The pantomime itself provides a few weeks of 'free' activity (no membership fees, etc) for everybody in it, and although we work hard at rehearsals it's great fun, almost a 'youth' club for all ages.

"Everyone is local so it's the community doing something for the community and with the donations we were able to give we give back to the community too! Very rewarding all round."

If anybody would like to get involved in next year's production, the group would like to hear from you, especially if you would like to support the backstage and props team or costume making.

To find out more, call Mary on 01297 23202.

GrizFest organisers unveil murals

ORGANISERS of the GrizFest have revealed a new art project which they hope will be enjoyed by the whole community and brighten up Seaton.

Local artists Jess Carvill and James Hedge of the Exeter-based artSTORM project have been working with Year Four children at Seaton Primary School all week to create a set of murals, which were installed on Marshlands Walls ahead of the Grizzly weekend.

The idea for the murals was developed by Kay d'Albertanson of the GrizFest team who has worked with Seaton Primary School, the Town Development Team, community organisations, Seaton Town Council and local businesses to see the project come to fruition.

Ms d'Albertanson said: "It's been exciting to see these lovely art pieces created and I'm delighted that we've had so much support from the community. Axe Valley Runners were really pleased to see the murals as they set the course up ahead of the Grizzly race."

The art project has been made possible through donations from Axe Valley Runners, Seaton Primary School PTA, Beviss and Beckinsale, the Grizzly Massage Team and Seaton Town Development Team.

It has provided a great opportunity for school children to work with experts, and has allowed them to have ownership of work they have created that they, and their families, will be able to see as they walk around Seaton for years to come.

Jackie Bennett, Art Co-ordinator from Seaton Primary School, said: "We wanted to get involved with this project as it strengthens the school's links with our local community.

"Not only have the children benefited greatly from working with experts in their field but they also have been introduced to new artistic skills and techniques.

"Seeing the positive impact their work can make on their town will be invaluable."

NEWS FROM SEATON LIONS

■ Mick and Mo, two members of the Devon Freewheelers paid a visit to the Seaton and District Lions Club business meeting on Tuesday, March 12th.

They spoke of the tasks that they undertake for the NHS, together with some of their experiences.

An indication of the cost of providing the service was outlined and apart from the fuel costs a major source of expenditure was that of tyres for the motorcycles.

The Freewheelers undertake journeys of mercy during the normal 'out of hours' period and they could be transporting blood, body parts or drugs for emergency use - sometimes with the emergency 'blue light' in operation.

Some of the trips could also involve transporting mother's milk for emergency baby feeds and in this case the milk is carried in insulated containers supplied by Lions in the South West district.

In line with several other Lions clubs in the local zone, the Seaton Lions made a donation of £500 to the motorcyclists to help with their expenses in carrying out their lifesaving missions.

THE Marie Curie Appeal was Tesco's charity of the year back in 2008, and as part of the Great Daffodil Appeal at the time an army of volunteers was requested to help fundraise at Tesco stores throughout the UK.

Lions clubs throughout the UK answered this call and raised more than £130,000. And each year since, Lions clubs have continued to make a huge difference to the appeal.

Two years ago, Lions clubs helped to raise over £33,000 - enough to provide 1,650 hours of nursing to people who are terminally ill.

Once again, Lions clubs have volunteered to carry out collections at Tesco stores throughout the UK.

The goal is to fill every Tesco collection that is available. There are over 1,000 stores and that's why

Marie Curie really does need Lions help.

Every £20 collected could provide one hour of hands-on nursing care to someone with a terminal illness in the community.

The collecting kits were supplied by Marie Curie Daffodil Appeal and the Seaton & District Lions collected at the local Tesco Store on Friday, March 8th.

There was a very good response and as a result the Marie Curie representative Natalie Searle was able to collect a cheque for the sum of £500 to benefit the appeal.

Before accepting the cheque, Natalie outlined the work of the Marie Curie nurses and the money needed to support the organisation.

Colyton children celebrate Easter

BEFORE breaking up for the Easter holidays, children from both Colyton Primary School and the Caterpillars pre-school enjoyed some seasonal fun.

Students at the primary school took part in their annual Easter bonnet and decorated egg competition, with many colourful and some very original entries.

Winners were chosen from each class and announced by headteacher Mr Harris in a special assembly at the end of the day, attended by parents. Each winner was given an Easter egg.

At the Caterpillars, excited youngsters held an Easter egg hunt in the playground. The tiny tots also enjoyed making Easter cupcakes, pictures and were visited by the Reverend Hilary Dawson who read them Easter stories.

■ A late Easter celebration will be held at St Michael's Church in Colyford on Saturday, April 13th from 2.30pm to 4.30pm. Families are welcome to join in a party, including tea and cakes, an Easter egg hunt, egg and spoon races and other games.

Young singers record their own CD at primary school

■ STUDENTS at Colyton Primary School recorded their very own CD after weeks of rehearsals. Members of all classes sang four songs which were recorded and are shortly to be released on CD. The project was assisted by singing coach Sarah Ryan and sound engineer Nick Ryan, from East Devon Musical Minds. All schools in the Axe Beacon Federation will be contributing to the CD.

Pulman's View from the churches

With NIGEL SPELLER

JUST before Holy Week, the enthronement of the new Archbishop of Canterbury took place at the cathedral during a two hours long service attended by the Prince of Wales and clerics from many other faiths including Buddhists, Jews, and Muslims – to name a few.

The Archbishop's entrance to the cathedral included an exchange with a British-Sri Lankan teenager, who asked him who he was, and why she should let him in. The Archbishop was later placed on one of two thrones by a female Archdeacon. In his sermon he referred to his own nerves as he told a Bible story "Peter ventures out in fear and trembling" he said, and added: "As you may imagine, I relate to him at this point." The congregation was amused but the 105th Archbishop looked far from nervous, but rather calm.

Churches all around have been busy during Holy Week and Easter celebrations which included a dawn celebration and Holy Communion in the Colyton Mission Community. St Michael's Church Combe Raleigh marked Easter with tea and homemade cakes, and a sale of plants.

The local churches support of the food bank for former staff of Axminster Carpets continues and there is a list below of items currently short and which they get asked for most: rice (any kind), pasta and sauce, dried or long-life milk, coffee, cereals, jam, toilet rolls, soap, toothpaste.

A reminder that there is also a Food Bank at Seaton, which gave out 312 vouchers in the first year, and 2,534 days of food were produced, super result.

At Honiton the Christain Aid news is of the next coffee morning at St Paul's on Saturday, April 13th - all are invited.

It is the season of annual church meetings for churches of the Diocesan of Exeter when elections to church offices are held, annual accounts are presented and reports made of church activities.

Colyton Church is holding a sponsored hymn-sing on Sunday, April 21st from 12 noon – ending with Songs of Praise at 6.30pm, in aid of the Choir Bursary Fund. Refreshments available during the day.

The Earth is the Lord's, on May 1st, will be an exciting and thought-provoking day in the beautiful grounds of the Bicton College. Main speakers are the Rt Rev Michael Langrish, Prof Sir John Marsh and Canon Professor Michael Winter, at the SW Rural Confreemce, information at www.arthurrank.centre.org.uk

A second electronic version of the Exeter Diocesan Yearbook is being distributed quarterly and replaces the printed version. It is a PDF that can be read on PCs. Contact can be made through <http://exeter.anglican.org/index.cfm?page=about.content&cmid=92>

The final word from Westminster, where a new bill to permit Women Bishops in the Church of England has been tabled and has a second reading on May 3rd, but to progress it will need government support.

ANNE Roberts is a counsellor specialising in relationships.

She has her own practice in Axminster - Axe Valley Counselling - and also works for Relate in Honiton and Exeter.

● WHERE were you born and where did you grow up?

I was born in Leeds but moved to Nottingham and then Darwen where I lived until I was 18, when I went to university in Sheffield.

● WHEN and why did you move to East Devon?

About 32 years ago. I felt it was a better place to raise children, it is beautiful - I love the countryside and the sea.

● TELL us about your professional background?

I studied law at university and worked in law for a short period until I had children. I spent 15 years raising my children - Richard, Thomas and Jayne. I then changed career and re-trained as a counsellor.

● WHAT makes you happy?

A lot of things, like having loving and supportive relationships, being outdoors, a good coffee, reading and learning new things.

● WHAT makes you angry or less happy?

Injustice, intolerance, abuse and treating people and the environment with a lack of respect.

● DO you have any hobbies?

I'm a member of Axe Valley Pedallers, a very friendly and social cycling club. I'm also a member of Axe Valley Canoe Club and I like walking (coastal and mountain), reading, listening to music and I'm learning Italian.

● WHAT are Axminster's strong points?

It is close to the Jurassic Coast and the sea. It has a mainline train station, so is easily accessible. It has great cafes, interesting shops, a good market, a lovely old church and, of course, River Cottage.

● WHAT, if anything, is needed to improve Axminster and make it more attractive?

Completing the Stop Line Cycleway would offer a wonderful amenity and it would bring in tourists. I also think it would be good to have north-south bypass.

seconds

● IF you won, for example, £1million, how would you spend it?

First of all I would help my children and family get on to the property ladder. I hope to live to ripe old age, so would keep enough to support myself and help my children, grandchildren and friends along the way. I would also like to make my house as green and environmentally friendly as possible.

● WHICH three famous or known people would you invite for a dinner party?

Jane Austen, she knew this area and was very perceptive about romance and relationships. David Attenborough because of his great wealth of experience of the natural world. Brian Cox, the particle scientist, because we share an upbringing in Lancashire - and I'm fascinated by quantum physics and would like him to explain.

An unusual look at wildflowers

AXMINSTER Horticultural Society were visited by Mr Brock with his wife for a talk on "Wildflowers, Folklore and Uses".

Members agreed it was a very interesting subject with detailed slides of the flowers covered.

Mr Brock began by saying that he had been introduced to the camera by his father and running a health food store for many years had given him a stronger interest in the wildflowers. He went onto say that we were loosing many of them.

Primroses, used for burns, infuse for eye treatment also used to remove wrinkles. Daisies would be used for tooth extraction also a whisky used to be made from them. Coltsfoot has horseshoe shaped leaves, which were dried and used to fill cushions, a very time-consuming job.

Birds eye trefoil were used as good luck charms, though the superstition was that if you picked it a bird would peck you in the eye. Red dead nettle was boiled whole and the liquid was given to children to soothe the fever of measles. Stinking

Bob was also a wound healer.

Dandelion and burdock was used as a health drink and antibiotic, while scurvy grass was used on board ships in days gone by, full of vitamin C, as are stinging nettles - used to make nettle beer, German uniforms during WWI and car interiors.

Wild garlic was used to make soup and also used as a cough remedy, while heather was put to practical use for thatching, bedding, infusion for insomnia and making heather honey.

There were many more and members were fascinated by the cures and uses that could be obtained from them.

Mr Brock explained that modern pharmaceutical companies are now starting to use many of the wild flowers. It has been proved that what used to be considered old wives tales is in fact true and many of the plants do what people said they would.

Christian Aid raises £340 at lunch

THERE was a heart-warming response to Seaton Christian Aid Group's invitation to the second Lent Lunch at the United Reformed Church in Cross Street.

The amount raised for the recently launched Christian Aid Syrian and Middle East Crisis Appeal rose dramatically.

Lent Lunch organiser, Janet Lang said: "I am delighted to say that the splendid total of £343.80 was raised for these poor suffering refugees, fleeing from their homes in terror and without hope."

The total raised included money from the sale of lunches, produce from the stalls and collection tins.

John Lang, who announced the appeal, explained that Christian Aid does not work through any government or take sides, but tries to meet the needs of the victims. The refugees mostly flee at night, on foot, and represent the most vulnerable groups included mothers and babies; other women and children; the elderly and the disabled.

Christian Aid is working through trusted partners in Lebanon and North Iraq, giving shelter, blankets, food, medicine, and education.

He added that Christian Aid's Appeal for these Syrian refugees is on going, and collecting tins have already been placed in Paperchain, Costcutter and Animal Botanical in Seaton.

Organiser, Mrs Lang would like to thank everybody for their generous response.

Probus club enjoys talk on the aircraft industry

WE are all safety conscious these days, sometimes, perhaps, to excess, but in the case of flight, safety is of the utmost importance and takes priority over all the other decisions affecting the industry.

This was the theme of the speaker at the March meeting of Axminster Probus Club.

David Newman - a member of the club for 13 years - spent his working life in the aircraft industry, first with De Havilland and finally with Hawker Siddeley where his expertise was additionally utilised on the safety aspect.

By 1911 it had become apparent that the public needed protection from the dangers of "these new-fangled machines".

The Aerial Navigation Act was passed and since then has progressed in various forms and guises until 1947 which was when David first became involved in the committee work, his involvement continuing to chairmanship of the Air Regulation Board from 1980 until his retirement.

The report which led to the 1947 Act cost £56 - a thought to conjure with today!

Because of the difficulty in monitoring every detail, the controls involve a large degree of trust and this has proved very successful.

The safety requirements of the industry are stringent and great effort is taken to anticipate every possible contingency and to produce manuals for dealing with them.

A unique confidential reporting system is in force so that risk is minimised. Instructions are provided for designs to meet various criteria including engine failure and for take-off and landing parameters.

Nowadays it is mandatory to fly with two pilots though one wag suggested that a man and a dog would suffice; the dog's job being to bite the man if he did something wrong!

Air travel is now one of the safest methods of transport. All components are rigidly tested and constant effort is devoted to improve the safety record still further. Currently there are no less than 30 million commercial flights per annum and this is forecast to increase to double that figure in the next 20 years.

There is no room for complacency and testing efforts increase with technical complexity.

At the annual general meeting, which preceded the talk, Peter Whiting was elected as president whilst chairman Eric Linton passed on his badge of office to Michael Bodsworth.

Axminster Probus Club for retired and semi-retired business and professional men meets at the Kilmington Cafe, Bistro & Motel on the A35 Gammons Hill on the first Tuesday of each month. For further information ring 01460 220528.

Seaton club learns of explorer Captain Cook

SEATON & District Men's Probus Club welcomed Ewart Walker to their recent meeting.

Mr Walker gave a fascinating talk about the life and times of Britain's most famous maritime explorer, Captain James Cook.

Cook was born in 1728, the son of a poor farm labourer, and showed great promise from an early age.

Given the opportunity to attend school by his father's employer, James excelled at maths and drawing, which proved invaluable in later life when he became an accomplished map maker and navigator.

Drawn to a life at sea, James spent a number of years working at the lowest level in boats shipping coal from Whitby to London and across to Holland.

This experience helped to develop his seamanship and led to him being taken into the Navy, where he again started from the bottom and worked his way up.

Cook had his first battle experience with General Wolfe in the Battle of Quebec, where his navigational skills played a crucial role in the British success.

In 1768 he was asked to command an expedition to Tahiti, to observe the transit of Venus the following year, then on a secret mission to the South Pacific.

This journey, in a boat just 106 feet (32 metres) long, took him down the east coast of South America and through the treacherous Magellan straits, a voyage lasting seven and a half months.

Leaving Tahiti, the "Endeavour" headed south in search of a land known as Terra Australis Incognita. Unable to find this non-existent land, Cook instead discovered New Zealand, and later landed on the east coast of Australia, both of which Cook claimed for Great Britain, along with several Pacific islands.

Captain Cook was to lead a second expedition to the southern hemisphere and a third, and final, expedition to find the fabled North-West passage. It was on this voyage that Cook died in a fight with the natives of Hawaii, ending the life and career of one of the world's greatest explorers.

Seaton and District Men's Probus club is open to retired men living in the area.

A lively social calendar supplements the fortnightly meetings which take place over the winter and informal meetings throughout the year.

Contact Keith West on 01297 624374 for more information.

Waterways enthusiast at Phoenix Ladies' club

AT the Axminster Phoenix Ladies Club March meeting quite a few ladies were missing due to previous commitments and illness.

Nevertheless, 22 ladies braved the weather to enjoy the warmth of good company.

A list was circulated with which the ladies were informed of the costs and pick-up points of the June 25th visit to Bath. Money for the trip will be due at the April meeting.

The group received a thank you card from Elizabeth Rutter, acknowledging members' renewed subscription for Aita Kumari's education. Information on her progress will be sent at a later date. Aita lives in Nepal.

The speaker this month was Bernard Hughes who spoke to us about "Inland Waters England & Wales".

Bernard's love of the waterways began 38 years ago when on holiday with friends, standing on a bridge gazing at the boats on a canal. Next thing he knew he was buying a narrow boat! Narrow boats are seven feet wide and between 40 to 70 feet long. The length is determined by the canal they are on.

Two hundred years ago waterways were as essential as the motorways are now. There were 4,000 miles of useable waterway system but only approximately 2,500 miles now.

However charities and volunteers are striving to open all the canals, the River and Canal Trust recently gave E56 million pounds to this end.

Bernard brought with him many colourful articles that the Bargee would have on his boat. A boat owner would have worn a bowler hat and a manager would have worn a flat cap.

Whole families would have lived on the boat and it was the wife's job to lead the horse and open the lock gates (besides cooking, looking after the children and the house work!).

On average barges travelled around four miles an hour, navigating a lock takes 15 minutes.

In more modern days, motor boats were used and sometimes a boat called a "butty" was trailed alongside to give extra room for the loads which could be anything from iron ore, coal, food products and travellers.

Big users of the canals were Huntley & Palmers, Wedgwood and Cadbury's.

During World War II the barges were used for transporting munitions from Birmingham to London and used women only crews.

Joyce Allen gave a vote of thanks echoed by the group members.

Axminster Phoenix Ladies Group meet at the United Reformed Church Hall on the second Wednesday afternoon of each month at 2.30pm. The next meeting will be held on April 10th - all welcome.

National Pet Month 2013

National Pet Month 2013 - 1st April to 6th May
"Your pets and you: Companions for life"

National Pet Month in a Nutshell

When?

From 1st April – 6th May 2013, you are invited to be a part of National Pet Month. Thousands of people up and down the UK will be celebrating life with their pets, spreading the word on responsible pet ownership or raising money for their favourite charity in fun-filled events. Why not be a part of this?

National Pet Month's aims are to

- Promote responsible pet ownership.
- Make people aware of the mutual benefits of living with pets.

- Increase public awareness of the role of pet care specialists.
- Raise awareness of the value of working and assistance companion animals.

What?

Each year the responsible pet ownership message is conveyed by running the events under a central theme.. Our 2012 theme is " Your pets and you: a winning team".

Who?

First of all become a supporter. This will keep you up-to-date with our activities and you will get a free events pack. Any one wanting to find out more about running events for National Pet Month can also check out the details on putting on an event.

Follow @UKNatPetMonth on Twitter and 'like' the National Pet Month Facebook page.

Sunnymead Boarding Kennels

ARE you going on holiday? Give your dog a holiday too! The Summer Holidays can be a stressful time for everyone, including your dog. There will be so much disruption, whether it is having family to stay, travelling to relatives or if you're holidaying abroad. Imagine what it is like for your much loved pet; their normal routine has gone. The whole world your dog has become familiar with, such as smells, household objects, and people can change, and you should be aware that your dog could become stressed.

Caring for dogs is our passion and we believe strongly in the quality of care we provide for the dogs that stay with us. So why not consider placing your dog in our caring boarding kennels. We will ensure your pet is kept safe, therefore minimising the affect on their stress levels whilst you can enjoy your holiday.

If you decide to place your dog in our kennels you will need to ensure the dog is up to date with vaccinations and worming. Please contact us for more details on: 01392 445312.

Vale Vets

Vale Vets Pet Care

NATIONAL Pet Month runs from April 1st to May 6th. Many charities and organisations come together to promote responsible pet ownership, to communicate the value of the relationship between people and their pets and to raise awareness of animal health professionals and the contribution of working companion animals to society. They have devised a list of top ten tips for responsible pet ownership as follows:

- 1) Think carefully before getting a pet and learn about its specific requirements and whether you can provide them.
- 2) Ensure your pet is sociable and well trained.
- 3) Provide a nutritious and well balanced diet specific to their species and breed.
- 4) Provide suitable housing and bedding.
- 5) Clean up after your pet and worm it regularly. This is important for their individual health and for public safety.
- 6) Vaccinate and treat against preventable diseases and parasites.
- 7) Prevent unwanted litters and neuter your pet.
- 8) Groom your pet regularly.
- 9) Control your pet and sure it is properly identified. In 2016, a new law will insist all dogs are microchipped.
- 10) Take out pet insurance for dogs, cats, rabbits and horses to cover against unexpected veterinary fees and third party liability.

Above all, enjoy your relationship with your pet and for more information visit the website www.nationalpetmonth.org.uk.

Old Lodge Boarding Kennels & Cattery

THIS is a small establishment catering for both dogs and cats, which has been owned and run by the Chapman family since 1968. We aim for a consistently high standard of care, and dogs and cats which board here are known by name and treated as individuals. Over the years we have looked after generations of pets from families who have become personally known to us. All pets must be fully inoculated, including infectious bronchitis (kennel cough) vaccine for dogs. Your veterinary surgeon will advise you. Please bring your vaccination certificates when your pet arrives at the kennels. All kennels and cat houses are heated, with secure out-side runs. A very large grass area, which is securely fenced, is provided so that dogs may have proper exercise.

Teacher showered with retirement gifts after 19 years at Kilmington

THE work of a retiring teacher from Kilmington Primary School was celebrated during a special arts assembly, following 19 years of service to the school.

Long-serving teacher Jean Bowmer was showered with gifts during the special event held at Kilmington Village Hall, when it was announced that she would be retiring.

The assembly showcased work from throughout the school, which focused on their recent topic of New Zealand. Following a collective vocal performance from all the children, each class performed their own unique display exploring a different area of the country's culture.

From the traditional New Zealand "Haka" dance, which had the children shouting and stamping, to a calmer story told through the art of the country's hand signs and a colourful sea of animal masks, each group celebrated their topic to an audience of family and friends.

Headteacher Malcolm Bettison then paid tribute to the work of Mrs Bowmer and thanked her for her dedication to the school for so many years.

Mr Bettison reminded the audience of the many roles in which Mrs Bowmer had taken on since joining the school, from literacy co-ordinator and head of music, to being in charge of numerous Christmas productions and "thoroughly enjoyable" residential trips.

He added: "Whatever we have done as a school, Jean has turned her hand to."

"She has very much been a key member of our team and has always shown such determination and dedication to ensuring she did the best for the school and her pupils.

"She has particularly done such wonderful work with the Yarty class, looking after years two, three and four and I just want to say a big thank you from all of us for her many years of work."

Following the speech, the curtains of the hall's main stage were pulled back to reveal some of Mrs Bowmer's pupils, surrounded by gifts.

Alongside a giant retirement card created by her pupils and a bouquet of flowers from the school's PTA, Mrs Bowmer received a camellia shrub bursting with red flowers for her garden, a stone sundial statue wrapped in golden paper and a handful of gift vouchers for gardening equipment.

The money for the gifts came from a general collection from pupils, parents, the PTA and the wider community.

On receiving her retirement gifts, Mrs Bowmer commented: "I have been here a very long time, and all at Kilmington Primary School are like a family to me.

"It will be strange to not come here everyday but I have loved every minute of being here.

"Today has been very lovely, thank you to all."

Parking success show what can be achieved by working together

■ SEATON is now getting cut-price parking on a six-month trial like other towns as a result of a united protest in the town and the willingness of East Devon District Council to help.

When I began the "Fair Deal for Seaton" campaign never did I think something would be achieved in such a short space of time. It happened because the people of Seaton formed a united front and stood together in a common cause.

First to respond was district and county councillor Jim Knight, who instantly took a copy of the poster and petition over to the district council headquarters. In no time at all Marcus Hartnoll, chairman of the chamber of commerce, also pledged that group's support and help, and then town Councillor Gaynor Sedgwick gave her backing to the campaign.

Councillor Sedgwick, the only town councillor to get actively involved, met with the relevant officer at East Devon and within 24 hours a meeting had been arranged in Seaton with East Devon representatives to discuss a way forward.

I would like to thank Councillor Knight, Marcus Hartnoll and Councillor Sedgwick for their tremendous support and help, and also East Devon officer Andrew Ennis and district councillors Phil Twiss and Iain Chubb for the very positive and helpful way they approached the meeting.

It was clear East Devon want to help Seaton but it was stressed the district council needs to know what Seaton wants.

It just goes to show what can be achieved by working together and talking. There is so much more that could be done and maybe this will be a stepping stone in the right direction.

However, questions still need to be answered as to why this course of action proved necessary when we have elected representatives to fight our corner. These questions will be asked at the next town council meeting and hopefully there will be answers to make sure such things don't happen again.

Why didn't Councillor Knight or the town council know anything about what was going on in other towns to enable them to ask for the same for Seaton?

Once again, thank you to all who supported the campaign, including the many hundreds who signed the petitions around the town.

Woody's, Marine Crescent, Seaton

Removal of eyesore will begin regeneration

■ THE new plan for the development of Websters in Axminster shows the retention of the existing walls surrounding the Websters site.

It would ease the movement of vehicles if this were not so, as vehicles would be able to freely move from the current EDDC car park using the existing entry on South Street and exiting one way onto Lyme Street. This would ease the flow of traffic.

Ultimately, the Sorting Office should be relocated to Millway and Lawsons moved to new premises.

The town council and EDDC must approve this planning application to remove the eyesore of Websters.

Along with River Cottage it will commence the regeneration of Axminster town centre. Next comes the George Hotel.

Thanks for supporting Arts Cafe

■ WE were absolutely delighted to see that you included the Arts Cafe in your first list of "15 reasons to be proud of Axminster" (Pulman's View, March 19th).

Axminster Arts has recently introduced a loyalty card, which entitles the cardholder to a free hot drink, once they have purchased nine, and we would like to think that your endorsement of the Arts Cafe will encourage new customers to join our band of loyal regular customers who visit the Arts Cafe, in some cases every day.

You are quite right when you say that we have "a vibrant arts community" and Axminster Arts is never short of local exhibitors applying to hold a month-long solo exhibition in the Arts Cafe.

This month we have our Members' Exhibition which by its very nature is very varied in content and we also have a diverse selection of Arts and crafts supplied by local artisans.

We support local artists by not charging commission on sales. We are currently in the process of getting applications from performing artists and crafters for our Arts in the Garden programme, which runs throughout June, July and August and is sponsored by us.

Axminster Arts, a not-for-profit organisation, uses any surplus funds raised through the Arts Cafe to sponsor arts and community projects. We run a Young Persons' Sponsorship Award each year and next month's exhibition will comprise work completed during the first four terms in higher education of our Award Winners 2011.

Anybody who is interested in local history should visit the Arts Café, which is situated in the section of the Old Courthouse complex which used to be the police man's house, complete with two police cells!

Visitors can be assured of a warm welcome, delicious refreshments and the pleasure of supporting our "vibrant arts community".

Thank you for your support.

Amazed at high cost of local parking

■ I HAVE recently relocated from France to the UK and was amazed at the high cost in local parking fees.

I saw an article in your latest edition of Pulman's View about parking.

In France, as indeed most of Europe, parking between 12pm and 2pm is free, and at other times it is very inexpensive, merely a few centimes.

Okay, so parking fees (and fines) do not provide the council with a bumper Christmas lunch, etc. but what it does provide is a lot of people coming into town to restaurants, cafes and pubs, not to mention shopping, etc.

It assists trade enormously.

THE UNITED KINGDOM HYDROGRAPHIC OFFICE

The United Kingdom Hydrographic Office (UKHO) plays a vital role in the UK's maritime defence capability and supporting safe navigation at sea. As an agency of the MoD and a world-leading supplier of navigational charts and publications, we are at the forefront of hydrographic digital product development and services to the worldwide maritime community.

We have the following vacancies which are based at our site in Taunton, Somerset:-

Analyst Developer

£23,446- £27,846 + benefits

As Analyst Developer you will be the IT contact for a number of UKHO systems, ensuring they are fully supported to minimise impact on current operations. You will use your analytical skills to suggest and implement solutions to technical development problems including error tracing and fixing; conducting tests and generating solutions; and documenting changes to the system and application architecture.

Key responsibilities include developing new applications or enhancing existing applications initiated as large projects or through smaller business change requests, as well as supporting a number of UKHO systems.

An excellent problem solver and team player, the successful applicant must have a good working knowledge of C# or VB.Net, IIS/DNS, Windows Server and SQL Server or Oracle. Experience of standard software packages, such as Javascript, HTML, ASP.NET or C++ would be an advantage and a good understanding of the ITIL framework is also beneficial.

Senior Analyst Developer

£29,418- £33,588 + benefits

This is an exciting opportunity to be part of the UKHO's vision to provide first class digital products, the team is part of large project initiatives, business change to enhance existing applications as well as supporting the existing applications to ensure their robustness and reliability. We're looking for a versatile Senior Analyst Developer with a number of years experience to design, code, test, maintain and document software programs within UKHO.

A confident team player who can work with people at all levels, you must demonstrate a proven understanding of C#, ASP.net, SQL and Visual Studio 2008/2010, plus a good working knowledge of core technologies such as Javascript, XML and HTML. Experience of working within a service delivery environment and a good understanding of the ITIL framework would be beneficial.

These are Ministry of Defence non-reserved posts and are therefore open to UK, British Commonwealth and European Economic Area nationals. Successful applicants will require security clearance; you will therefore need to have resided in the UK for a minimum of 5 years.

The Tytherleigh Arms winning plaudits for best in English Cuisine

WHEN dining out emerged as a popular social necessity back in the 1960s and 70s, a visit to the Tytherleigh Arms was considered to be priority.

The restaurant/pub on the Devon/Somerset border was run by the ebullient Leo and Mary Featherstone who over a number of years at the Tytherleigh built a strong and loyal clientele before moving on to run the charming Mariners Hotel in Lyme Regis.

Leo, a former Royal Navy man, did the chafing (resplendent in his floor-length white apron) and Mary looked after front of house. I'm not sure whether Leo was a trained chef but his dishes attracted diners from miles around to the extent that the Tytherleigh enjoyed near cult status.

In the intervening years, the pub/restaurant has enjoyed various periods of success and popularity and now a young couple, Mark Starling and Rosie Goyer, are winning plaudits from discerning diners indicating that once again The Tytherleigh is a must visit for the very best in English cuisine.

Mark and Rosie acquired The Tytherleigh in December 2011, having both worked in the hospitality industry in the Bath area. Mark knew the area well, his grandparents having lived in Colyton and can remember family visits to The Tytherleigh when he was younger.

Mark and Rosie recruited experienced head chef Alfie Weightman in July and their concentration on well executed English dishes with the emphasis on high quality local produce, good food and good service at reasonable prices seven days a week, is once again attracting clientele from a wide area.

A typical dinner menu at The Tytherleigh include starters ranging from roast butternut squash, coconut and ginger soup (£5.95) to pan seared scallops, roast onion velouté, pork belly and parsley oil (£9.50).

Other options to tempt your palette: gilled aubergine and goats cheese, spiced tomato bruschetta and olive tapenade (£6.95); home cured breast of pigeon, baby courgette and fennel salad, celeriac roulade and cranberry crouton (£7.75); pork pig cheek and parsley terrine with parsley puree, chilli jam and crostini (£7.95); and potted Lyme Bay crab, served with tomato jelly, pickled cucumber, melba toast and shallot vinaigrette (£8.25).

By Philip Evans

Main dinner courses include some pub classics alongside a mouth-watering selection of meat, fish and vegetarian dishes. From beer battered haddock and chips with crushed peas and tartar sauce (£11.95) to roasted tail of monkfish, topped with a chorizo mousse and parmesan and herb breadcrumbs with olive mash, spinach and basil dressing (£18.90).

Other typical dishes on the mains menu, listed, will provide wide-ranging options to satisfy all tastes:

- Stuffed mushroom and Otter Ale pie with a golden suet pastry lid, seasonal vegetables and mustard mash (£12.95).

- Marshall Elm Farm, Glastonbury, steak, confit shallot, tomato, mushrooms, chips and pink peppercorn and horseradish butter; sirloin £14.95, ribeye £18.95.

- Pan seared guinea fowl supreme stuffed with tarragon and garlic butter, butternut puree, savoy cabbage, smoked bacon potato cake and tarragon and cider cream (£14.95).

- Slow roast belly of pork with sweet red cabbage, thyme and garlic dauphinoise, chanteren carrots and a blackberry jus (£15.75).

- Marinated rump of lamb, honey glazed parsnips, purple sprouting broccoli, sweet potato and cumin mash and a mint jus (£18.95).

- Grilled fillets of lemon sole, alforno potatoes, crayfish beurre blanc and mizuna leaves (£17.50)

- Seafood bouillabaisse served with saffron rouille and ciabatta (£14.75).

• Butternut squash, parsnip, roasted pepper and cherry tomato wellington with sweet potato mash, wilted spinach and truffle oil cream (£13.95).

• Tart tatin of balsamic roasted root vegetables, gruyere cheese, roasted walnuts, soured beetroots and micro herb salad (£12.95).

For a sweet dish you can indulge yourself on sticky toffee pudding with toffee sauce and vanilla ice cream for £5.95. Or you may prefer one of the other options – lemon posset with macerated raspberries and lemon zest shortbread (£5.50); white chocolate and berry cheesecake with Chantilly cream (£5.75); apple and sultana crumble with spiced crème anglaise (£5.75); chocolate and orange torte with hazelnut ice-cream (£6.50). Alternatively, you can share an assiette of puddings for two at £13.50 or enjoy a scoop or three of Granny Gothard's ice cream at £1.75 a scoop.

The Tytherleigh also offers a range of seven different cheeses served with apple and pear chutney and lavosh for £8.50.

A carefully selected wine list is available, including a number of dessert wines and port.

In addition to the starters, mains and puddings, a selection of light lunches are available at lunch time from Monday to Saturday.

Light lunches include chargrilled leg of lamb with sautéed potatoes, broccoli and chilli salsa verde at £10.95, honey & mustard hand carved ham, duck egg and chips (£10.50), seafood bouillabaisse served with saffron rouille and ciabatta (£10.50) and the popular Tytherleigh fish pie topped with mature Somerset cheddar mash which comes at £8.50 or £11.50 depending on your appetite.

On a Sunday lunch alongside the full selection of starters, puddings, fresh fish dishes and vegetarian options you will find a selection of traditional roasts.

Roast sirloin of beef, belly of pork and leg of lamb are served with all the trimmings.

The Tytherleigh Arms is open seven days a week with regularly changing menus, using the best of seasonal local produce, for lunches (12 noon to 2.30 pm, 3pm Sundays) and dinner served from 6 pm to 9.30 pm, 10pm Saturdays. Six newly renovated Bed and Breakfast rooms are also available. For reservations call 01460 220214.

Elijah Wolf and River Cottage Canteen present 'HOWL 6'

ELIJAH Wolf and River Cottage Canteen in Axminster have joined forces once again to put on a new music extravaganza on Monday, April 15th at 7pm.

THE GRAVITY DRIVE | Ava and Elijah Wolf

This is the sixth Howl Showcase at River Cottage Canteen and the nights have gained a reputation for being truly unique and for finding and presenting some of the best upcoming new music from the area.

Elijah's band, The Gravity Drive, who have recently been played on BBC 6 Music and regularly on BBC Introducing and on Hollyoaks, will be playing songs from their upcoming debut album and are joined by a myriad of other acts.

Elijah explains: "We have handpicked some of the best artists from the area who are all making waves in the music industry either by working with top producers and labels or by having their music played and recognised by national and local radio. It's our most exciting line-up yet. It's a not to be missed night."

Tickets are £10.00 which include River Cottage nibbles and can be bought at River Cottage Canteen in Axminster, Bridport Music, on the night or reserved by emailing info@elijahwolf.com.

Jackie Oates' Lullabies at The Phoenix

JACKIE OATES is a phenomenon in the exploding folk scene in the UK today.

Jackie has won two BBC Radio 2 Folk Awards and been nominated for several more. She has been the inspiration behind a 'Jackie Oates' tinted moisturiser on sale in Lush, the worldwide chain of seven hundred fresh handmade cosmetics stores. She has toured as support to Mercury nominated folk-pop star Seth Lakeman. She has been immortalized as a Jackie Onassis for the 21st century by pop-artist David Owen. She is a member of the all-star multi-cultural folk band Imagined Village alongside Eliza Carthy, Chris Wood, Martin Carthy and more. She took part in the songwriting house of the Cecil Sharp Project which garnered major features on Radio 3's World on 3, Radio 4's Today programme and The Guardian. And more...

After four studio albums, Jackie now takes time out to work on recording and touring a very special project focused around lullabies. In her own words:

'For a long time I've been fascinated with lullabies, often being struck by the way that, for adults, hearing them can bring back strong memories and feelings of being a child again.'

Over the past few months, I've had a wonderful time exploring my interest in these songs in more detail; from the folklore of the cradle with its superstitions and customs, to the way in which lullabies can be outlets for the many aspects of parenthood. Through these unique songs children often uncomprehendingly becomes a parent's confidant, hearing of the joys, grievances and anxieties of the adult world. At other times they are moral tales, bribes for good behaviour or spells to comfort. The variety of material, style and purpose has made this a fascinating journey.

What, for me, has come to light most of all has been the hidden nature of some of the richest of the traditional lullabies from England and beyond. They have been tucked away in song collections, manuscripts and memories and given little real status in the traditional song repertoire. Through this project I'm excited to be giving new life to these lullabies and to be putting a spotlight on this beautiful and very special form of song.'

On 18th March 2013 Jackie will release an album of lullabies supported by two Lullabies tours in April and October 2013 which will see her running afternoon lullaby workshops for 0-4 year olds followed by an evening concert, based around the lullabies theme, for adults.

The project as a whole will also include a new archive of lullabies collected by Jackie, being lodged in the Vaughan Williams Memorial Library at Cecil Sharp House in London, the home of the English Folk Dance & Song Society.

Jackie Oates plays at Exeter Phoenix on Wednesday, April 24th. She will also host an afternoon lullaby workshop for 0-4 year olds. To book tickets call 01392 667080 or exeterphoenix.org.uk

OUR SLIMMING WORLD EXPERIENCE

by Sue and Graham West

LAST September our two friends, Margaret and John were staying with us for a holiday. They were singing the praises of Slimming World that they had joined in their home town of Matlock in Derbyshire. We had been talking about wanting to lose weight – Graham had high blood pressure and cholesterol, and I have asthma, we knew that losing weight would benefit these problems.

Graham had made a start by deciding to cut out sugar from his tea and coffee and was amazed that he lost 3-4lbs in just a couple of weeks!

When our friends left, their enthusiasm for Slimming World triggered us into finding the local group and we joined the last week in September. We knew a bit about the way the slimming plan works from chatting to Margaret and John – but it did sound too good to be true – plenty to eat, not feeling hungry, no calorie counting – but just choosing the right things and cooking them in the right way!

At our first meeting, Helen the consultant for the group, a friendly, bubbly lady with a wealth of knowledge and experience of the eating plans, welcomed and introduced us. She spent time with us explaining the plans and making suggestions of how to start by planning meals and snacks ahead. We soon got into the planning – well maybe it was me getting into the planning – but we both enjoyed the meals and started to lose weight. In fact we lost steadily week by week – rewarded by certificates for every half stone or stone lost. Graham won the slimmer of the week several times which gives a real boost to morale.

By the beginning of January 2013, I was at target having lost 1 ½ stones despite having enjoyed Christmas festivities! By the end of January Graham had also reached target having lost an amazing 3 stones. Now we are maintaining that loss feeling fitter and healthier – and enjoying buying clothes that are smaller sizes than before. Healthwise my asthma check was a great improvement on last years and Graham has staggered our GP in that his blood pressure is much lower and his cholesterol has reduced from 6.2 to a very healthy 3.2.

To our surprise we are not finding it difficult to maintain the weight because we are choosing to eat more sensibly than before, being aware of the right foods without missing out on those meals out or treats that we enjoy!

We think the reason we lost weight so steadily and quickly is due to the fact that we were doing this together as a couple, meaning that we could be a great support to each other.

New Company! New Show! New Vision!

SARA Perry will be showcasing an original musical works 'I Dream Of Dali' at Beer Mariners Hall this Easter, on April 12th at 4.00pm.

The former creator of successful theatre and arts programme Confi-dance has put together a brand new professionally focused performance group, Mash Fusion. Made up of several individuals, both adults and children, hand picked for their passion and dedication in music and dance it promises to be an exciting and stylish addition to the area.

Following the success of 'Alice in Wondercity' and 'Red', Sara has created this imaginative project using inspiration from the great late surrealist painter Salvador Dali.

Sara believes the music and dance compositions reflect the "magnificence and madness" of the artist whilst at the same time illustrating his symbolisms.

This exciting and entertaining performance integrates a mish mash of different skills, such as a combination of baton twirling with street and classical dance, as well as a mix up of music, including Black Eyed Peas versus Les Mis, and Amy Winehouse versus Stevie Wonder.

Like all Sara's productions, although a delight to watch, there is generally an underlying message and this show is no different.

The story is an interpretation of one person's quick rise to stardom and the price that is attached. Although fame brings wealth and acclaim it also brings with it an intensity and pressure which ultimately can lead to a fall from grace and loss of social standing, which for some can and has had tragic consequences.

The portrayal reflects readily on the lives of Monroe, Garland and Winehouse, hinting at how we can so easily become a victim of society and its egotistical cliche, that living someone else's dream can sometimes turn out to be a personal nightmare; and how often a beautiful fantasy can be a metamorphosis into something ugly by the image that reality shows us.

Though expectations have become higher and competition is much more fierce, the arts industry is much the same in that overnight success does not ensure long term stability.

Like Dali, Sara is always looking for something different, seeing beyond her limits, constantly evolving and being open to new and interesting perspective. She says "I believe that making room for change prevents us from being stagnant, and that every move we make, every action we take is a risk. Others may be unable to understand my creativity or what is in my mind and some may even fear it, but I know most would love to be a part of it."

As Dali quotes "There is only one difference between a madman and me. The madman thinks he is sane. I know I am mad. Surrealism is destructive, but it destroys only what it considers to be shackles limiting our vision."

If you wish to be a part of this vision then reserve your tickets, costing £5 (adults) and £3 (children), at Osbornes, Fore street, Seaton, emailing mashfusion@mail.com, or calling or texting on 01297 23474 / 07939946780.

By taking part in the exclusive workshops, you too could have an opportunity of being considered for future projects. Look Mash Fusion up on facebook and check out the sessions and auditions in your area.

STAGECOACH NOW ENROLLING FOR SUMMER TERM

- HONITON Stagecoach has undergone some changes since September 2012
- when Lorna Bryant took over as the New Principal. There has been an influx of new students and two new, very experienced and creative teachers have joined the team. The school is thriving and vibrant according to the parents. Two parents recently said "There is such a fantastic atmosphere at Honiton. It is very warm and friendly. The children are so obviously happy and having fun and the teachers are exceptional".

- The Principal, Lorna Bryant told us "I am honoured to be the Principal of Stagecoach in Honiton. I have an amazing team of dedicated and innovative teachers. My priority is to maintain the original ethos of Stagecoach and provide a nurturing, supportive and fun environment for the children and teenagers to grow in confidence, self-esteem and to discover their true creative potential while learning all the skills involved in the field of Performing Arts. Children of all ages and abilities are welcome at the school and diversity is positively encouraged".

SPOTLIGHT ON MY SERVICE

Rachel Rendell Healer and Psychic Medium

I was attuned to Reiki and qualified as a Crystal Healer in 2003. I work on all levels, physical and emotional alike, clearing blockages and re-aligning the Chakras.

I work very much with my intuition so every session is different.

For both Reiki and Crystal Healing the client remain fully clothed while Crystals and my hands are placed on and around the body.

I am also a Psychic medium and am available for private readings or telephone readings by appointment only. Bring meditation into all areas of your life by learning meditation at my Meditation workshops or come and enjoy the energy of Crystals at my Crystal workshops.

Mercedes-Benz 7+ value service – discounted servicing for older vehicles at participating retailers

MERCEDES-Benz has launched a new 7+ Value Service; a fixed price offering created to provide an alternative and more affordable servicing option for owners of Mercedes-Benz cars over seven years old.

The 7+ Value Service consists of a full inspection of all key components and fluids, including brakes, tyres, seat belts, brake fluid and lights, as well as an oil and filter change.

Free technical software updates are also included if available and only

Mercedes-Benz Genuine Parts are used, whilst the service indicator is reset and the log book stamped exactly the same way as after a regular service. A free car wash rounds off the package.

Bookings can be made directly with Mercedes-Benz Retailers or through the award-winning Mercedes-Benz My Service online booking portal, located at www.MyMercedesService.co.uk, which enables customers to choose the service level that best suits their needs.

Match report

PINHOE 4 SIDMOUTH TOWN RES 1

D&E Division Two

A SERIOUSLY depleted Sidmouth Reserves team made the journey to Pinhoe and were soundly beaten 4-1.

The opening exchanges were very promising with Sidmouth camped in the hosts' half and pressing.

But the Pinhies took the lead when a speculative curling attempt found the top corner and it was downhill all the way.

Pinhoe looked like they could score at will so it was no surprise as they were soon 3-0 up and had missed a handful of chances.

Sidmouth did produce the odd attack and got a goal from Matt Rassmussen to make it 3-1 at half-time.

The second-half was quite even until the hosts scored the 4th and final goal.

It was a real backs to the wall performance and only Pinhoe know how they hadn't run up a cricket score.

Sidmouth manager Manager Nick Odden was very disappointed, he said: "We are down to the bare bones, I am just pleased we were able to put a side out."

But having witnessed two performances full of guts and spirit from our first team the least I expected was for us to compete.

One plus was the performance of Doug Still who is showing real maturity for a 16-year-old".

Round-up

COLYTON, who have been languishing on the bottom of the First Division since being promoted last year, finally notched up their first victory beating fellow strugglers CULM UNITED 3-2. Jason Potter, Callum Somers and Mike Cullum were the delighted Colyton scorers.

Leaders CHARD TOWN added another three points to their hopes of promotion winning 2-1 at WITHERIDGE, but it is BOW AAC who made the biggest move into third place when they despatched EAST BUDLEIGH 4-1. Gavin Coles 2, Will Hawking and Micheal Broom scored for Bow.

SIDBURY UNITED hopes were dimmed by a 1-0 defeat at home to TIVERTON TOWN but the yellows face a massive backlog of games.

WELLINGTON TOWN won 3-0 against the UNIVERSITY with Jack Bryant 2 and Mitch Woodgates scoring, and ALPHINGTON pushed TIPTON ST JOHN into deeper trouble with a 4-0 success.

The Alphas goals came from Sam Washbourne, Ryan Moody, Josh Hole and Brad Phillips.

FENITON are back as Premier leaders after they won the match of the day at HATHERLEIGH TOWN 4-1 but it left a sorry taste for the North Devon side.

Hatherleigh had Mark Lake sent off midway through the first-half and were not happy about the decision. Fenny then went two up and profiting with Charlie Selley hat-trick and a Paul Dowling strike, with Hatherleigh getting back to 2-1 through Luke Reynolds.

Reigning champions ST MARTINS maintained their chase with a 2-0 win against HEAVITREE SOCIAL UNITED and MORCHARD BISHOP slotted into fourth place after they made hard work of beating CLYST VALLEY 1-0. A Jonathan Bradford penalty made the difference.

Both THORVERTON and WILLAND ROVERS took a giant stride to safety. The Thors surprised NEWTOWN 2-0, and Rovers were 4-1 winners against EXMOUTH AMATEURS.

TOPSHAM TOWN beat the UNIVERSITY 2-0 with Matt Finn and James Fanson scoring while BEER ALBION scored in the last minute to snatch a 1-1 draw against their great rivals SEATON TOWN.

ELMORE beat COLATON RALEIGH 5-0 and are now 14 points clear as Division Two leaders. Jordan Copp (2), Matt Atkins, Callum Old and Rhys Parsons scored and keeper Luke Phillips saved a penalty.

WOODBURY are up to third in division four after beating AXMOUTH 4-0, Alex Hedges scoring twice and Declan Bourne dominating the game.

running round-up

Busy times for local runners

AXE VALLEY RUNNERS with Dave Mutter

AFTER a couple of rest weeks the AVR gang were out in force over the Easter period.

The seven-mile Kilmington Kanter on Good Friday proved to be very good for the club as AVR landed the first three places.

Tim Lenton led for much of the race being tracked by Matt Clist and Alex Todd. Tim maintained his lead going up the steep hill from Shute Barton after five miles, but Matt finally managed to overhaul him in the last mile to win in 42:30 with Tim 16 seconds adrift. 3rd placed Alex completed in 43:56.

Luke Reed ran well to finish 7th in 47:47, grabbing the first "local runner" prize.

Tim Sibley was 18th, 53:18 one place ahead of Matt Smith, 53:50 with Gavin Watts 23rd in 54:21.

Eleanor Wood had a super run; she was 1st lady over 45, 28th overall in 55:15 just one second ahead of Dave Thomas with Matt Morbey just behind, 30th in 55:33.

Despite a shoe loss, Paul Johns was 35th, 56:56; Clare Hansford 44th, 59:07; Gareth Walker 45th, 59:32; Alison Bowskill 52nd, 63:24; Anna McLoughlin 56th, 67:12; Alan Morbey 62nd, 71:08 and Jane Calvert 63rd, 72:53.

AVR had great success in the Junior/Fun Run race with Mollie Hansford winning the 15/16 girl's race, 4th overall in 19:20; Mia Bartlett won the girl's 11/12 section, 10th overall, 21:37 and Stephen Morbey won the boys 15/16 race, 12th overall, 22:13.

■ ALAN Rowe pictured competing in the Lisbon half-marathon

Ollie Coute was the first AVR home, 3rd overall in 18:47; Arun Hawkes was 6th, 20:14; Max Bowskill 9th, 21:22; Matt Thurgood 11th, 21:43; Non Junior Rick Wood 14th, 24:23; Caleb Sinclair 15th, 25:38; Adam Burrough 20th, 27:11; Kate Alexander 23rd, 29:15 and Nancy McLaughlin 24th, 42:00.

The Nightrunner is a night time seven-mile excursion into the 'back of beyond' around Beer and Branscombe and has a twisting torch lit route over undulating farmland, strength sapping upward steps towards the starry heavens, shingle beach and exposed cliff top.

There were 80 finishers and Michael Robinson of Tamar Trotters and AVR Matthew Clist crossed the finishing line together in a brilliant time of 44:47.

Garry Perratt of AVR raced to the finish in third with 47:07 followed by Alex Todd in 5th. Other AVR places were 10th Andrew Watson, Josh Coates 11th in 50:30, Martin Lascelles 19th in 55:37, Chris Keefe 22nd, Geoff Woodward 33rd, Mark Nevel 34th, James Sibley 37th, Richard Dodge 52nd, Henley Bailey 63rd and Laura Bailey 73rd.

Following the race many retired to Jim at the Anchor Inn, the main Nightrunner benefactor, for Nightrunner food and drink to everyone's appreciation.

Thanks are also due to the many marshals lighting the way on a dark cold night, farmer Richard Dorner for allowing access onto private farmland, and Otter Brewery for copious supplies of runner's favourite tipple!

HONITON RUNNING CLUB with Judy Davey

HONITON Running Club's President Alan Rowe MBE ran the Lisbon Half Marathon on Sunday, March 24th to promote the Baton's Message with one of the Trustees.

For the Baton's cause Alan ran with a rucksack containing Baton leaflets and messages which he handed out along the way.

Alan's time was 2 hours 28 minutes and, allowing for stops and photos, Alan estimates a real time of about 2:13 - not the fastest, but taking into account a chest infection that he's had for over six weeks, he was very satisfied.

The weather on the day was absolutely perfect; 20C with a cooling breeze. Many of the runners, including Alan, took up the offer of a free Baseball Cap in view of the temperature.

Honiton Running Club was extremely well represented at Good Friday's Kilmington Kanter with 14

■ AXE Valley Runners pictured before the start of the Kilmington Kanter adults taking part in the main race and four juniors tackling the fun run.

This multi-terrain race is just under seven miles and takes in Shute and Umborne as well as Kilmington. It looked like a beautiful spring day but the biting wind made it bitterly cold.

Richard Harvey was first back for Honiton in 17th place in a time of 52 minutes 58 seconds. Steve Davey followed coming 20th in 53:51. Richard Harris and Suzanne Spiller battled to the line with Richard coming 25th in 54:57 and Suzanne just one place and two seconds behind. Suzanne had her victory, however, as she was first lady overall winning a hamper of fruit for her efforts.

Howard Bidmead has been suffering injury following the Grizzly but he had a good race finishing 32nd in 56:20. Mark Dallyn was next back coming 34th in 56:40. Simon Spiller led the next batch of Honiton runners home finishing 36th in 57:40 with Roger Saunders following nine seconds later having just outsprinted Judy Davey by seven seconds on the final stretch.

Steve Briggs followed in 43rd place with a time of 58:46 before the next trio of Honiton runners finished one after the other led by Lesley Crocker who came 47th in 60:38 followed by Mark Andow in 60:43 and John Burgess finishing just one second later. Lesley was delighted to find out she was the winner of her category winning a bag of healthy goodies.

Lin Pike completed Honiton's adult line up finishing 58th in 67:34.

There were 67 runners and the race was won by Axe Valley Runner Matthew Clist in 42:30. Runners were treated to a much needed cup of tea and hot cross bun on their return.

The four junior runners did spectacularly well in the fun run with Henry Riddle winning the race in 17:31. Rowan Westall was 2nd in 18:27 and Florence Swan won her category finishing 5th overall in 19:59. Megan Burton finished 2nd in her category in 26:04 in 17th place. There were 25 runners.

Thanks to the main organiser Malcolm Macdonald with Kilmington Primary School as well as the sponsors for the great prizes.

Steve Davey, Bruce Strawbridge and Mark Dallyn took part in AVR's Night Runner last Saturday evening. Runners are guided on the course of this 6½ mile off road race by lights placed at strategic points.

It is a tough race made tougher by the darkness with runners taken along Branscombe Beach before climbing the infamous Stairway to Heaven. Steve was first back for Honiton coming 21st in about 57 minutes. Bruce followed just a few seconds and two places later whilst Mark finished a very respectable 41st.

◆ Paul and Jo Lowman are starting a runners' beginners' course on Monday, 15th April.

Meet at 6.30pm at Honiton Community College. For further information contact Paul on 07764308627 or paul.knewit@btinternet.com

scrum down rugby round-up

Poor second-half costs Sidmouth dearly

SIDMOUTH 12 CHARD 39

DESPITE the absence of several regulars, who were unavailable for this rearranged league game, the Chiefs competed very well against an entertaining game against-in-form Chard.

They were very much in the game until the final ten minutes, when the Somerset side's superiority in the set pieces enabled them to draw clear.

Chard kicked-off in perfect conditions and opened the scoring when the fly-half kicked a penalty in the first minute. They were soon back on the attack to earn a scrum deep inside the Sidmouth 22. They shunted the Sidmouth eight back to score a pushover try by the number eight. The fly-half added the conversion.

The Chiefs were undaunted by these early setbacks and set about countering the visitors pack power by moving the ball wide at every opportunity.

Young half-backs Jonny Hamill and Jay Wright played their part in this tactic by moving the ball quickly away from the point of contact at every opportunity. The more mobile Sidmouth forwards' speed to the breakdown enabled them to keep playing at a high tempo.

The Sidmouth backs, with Jason Luff and James Powell posing a constant threat, kept the Chard defence at full stretch. They were well supported by the back row, while any slow ball was driven forward around the fringes by Jack Pyne, James Perry and Alex Spurle.

Although playing out of position in the second row, Rhys Thomas was quick to react to any loose ball on the ground.

Although much of the play was in the opposing half, Chard's superiority in the set pieces prevented Sidmouth from maintaining pressure close to the line.

The absence of the regular goal kicker was another problem. It wasn't until first-half injury time that their ambition was rewarded when Jack Pyne latched on to a loose ball at the back of a lineout inside the 22 to power his way over. Chris Higgs added the conversion to make the half-time score 7-10.

Chard started the second-half as dynamically as the first. Despite two try saving tackles by James Powell, they increased their lead when the full-back came into the line at pace after a turnover on the Sidmouth 22. The try was converted and soon followed by a third try scored by the right winger on the overlap.

Once again the Chiefs staged a spirited fight-back. Two tap penalties in quick succession stretched the defence and James Powell came into the line at a good angle to cut through for an unconverted try.

Just ten points behind with 20 minutes to play and the Chiefs were very much in the game. However, the Chard pack gradually took control as the Sidmouth eight began to tire. With ten minutes to go they scored a second pushover try dotted down by the scrum half.

Another try soon followed when the right winger finished off a good handling move. Then, in injury time, the referee awarded a penalty try when the Sidmouth pack prevented another pushover try illegally. The conversion rounded off the scoring.

WITH WILL MOWBRAY

this weekend

On Saturday the Chiefs travel to second placed Camborne. The Cornishmen are unbeaten at home and sure to be confident after winning their county Senior Cup competition.

At the Blackmore the Quins entertain Torquay 2nds, kicking off at 3pm.

The Colts travel to Ivybridge, where a win would ensure them a home draw in the Colts Cup semi-final.

HONITON with

Sun Am Plate

THE penultimate game of a very cold Winter League Season was played out at the weekend with the Sun Am Plate.

All the Winter League pairs who failed to make it to the final played a winner-take-all Better Ball Stableford on a surface resembling an ice rink more than a golf course.

This year's winners were Steve Waller & Max Pipe with a very commendable 40pts.

Next week sees the final when Steve Charlton & Richard Beard take on Jim Wallis & Bob Cleal.

Tuesday Mixed

THIRTY SIX members braved the bitterly cold weather to play for the Monthly Chivers Goblets.

This competition is drawn for playing partners, Greensome Stableford. The winning pair with 41pts were Olwen Eaton & Andy Sharland. In 2nd place were Andrea Squire & Paul Ritchie with 39pts, 3rd place Stephanie & Bob Barnes with 37pts on c/b.

The Lady Vice-Captain Elizabeth Davies presented the prizes and thanked Carol and Alan Booth who had run the competitions during March.

Ladies Section

TWENTY SEVEN Ladies braved the cold to play a N/Q Stableford with temporary greens however not all of them completed the 18 holes.

Silver Division Winner with 34pts was Jackie Seager. Bronze 1 Division winner with 35pts was Lesley Oxenham in 2nd place with 33pts was Janet Hughes.

Bronze 2 winner with 35pts was Jean Moon. This was a fitting end to Jean's time at Honiton as she is moving to another area. Lin Wallwork was second with 34pts.

Seniors Section

THE seniors' Good Friday competition was opened up to all male club members, and a total of 70 players took part.

The competition was played as a four ball better ball competition, but with each team member allowed to count only nine of his scores.

There was a keen wind and it was expected that the temporary greens would see low scores.

Not so. The winners, John Fleetwood & Colin Hughes came in with a 49, followed by John Discombe & Fred Thomas on 47.

Keith Crane & Peter Blake scored 45 and the last two prize-winning pairs both had 43 points.

They were Brian Morrison & Michael Hunt and J. Marker & G. Chivers. John Fleetwood made the only two of the day and won 48 balls.

Honiton Hornets clinch league title

Honiton Hornets 4 Ashmoor 1

IT all came down to last week's final game of the season to see if Honiton could hold on to top spot and claim the league title for the first time since 2004.

Rivals ISCA, on the same points as Honiton had much the easier game to finish the season but needed to make up a goal difference of eight to snatch the title.

Honiton made a nervous start against a strong Ashmoor side in the reverse fixture in the first-half of the season and only managed a narrow 1-0 victory.

The league decider turned out to be a great game and was truly end-to-end. Honiton worked hard to secure an early goal with Amy Phillips slotting a great ball through to Vanessa Trude who slotted the ball into the corner of the goal.

Ashmoor's strong midfield players kept up the pressure at the other end they earned several short corners.

Sue Stone and her defence of Sam Parke, Lorraine Ritchie, Becky Bond and Vicki Morris dealt with these well to maintain the slender lead at half-time.

Aware that ISCA were only winning 2-

0 in the other match, Honiton returned to pitch with 35 minutes to hold on to their win.

Honours even in both big local derby clashes

THE local derby at Sector Lane didn't fail to live up to expectations with Axminster Town and Sidmouth Town, who finished the game with nine men, sharing four goals and the points.

Martyn Hancock scored a goal in each half for The Tigers, now lying eighth in the South West Peninsula League table, who were due to travel to Galampton yesterday before another away game at Totnes & Dartington on Saturday.

Down in the Devon & Exeter League the premier division local derby at Furzebrake also ended all-square up with hosts Beer Albion holding Seaton Town to a 1-1 draw.

Dan Norman netted for the Greens with John Cooper snatching an 87th equaliser for the Fishermen.

Both teams were on the road yesterday with Seaton, now unbeaten in seven, at Morchard Bishop while Beer headed off to Topsham.

On Saturday Seaton travel to relegation-threatened Clyst Valley while Beer entertain new leaders Fenton.

By Howard Larcombe
howard@pemedia.co.uk

In division one Colyton beat Culm United 3-2 to record their first win of the season.

The Tanners, still bottom, have a tough week ahead with trips to Sidbury United yesterday and Tiverton Town Reserves on Saturday.

Goals from Ollie Hight (2) and Adam Whitehouse earned Axminster Town Reserves a 3-2 win over Lords XI.

Next up for the Tigers' second-string is Saturday's visit by neighbours Axmouth United.

Axmouth's recent slump continued with a 4-0 defeat at Woodbury. Laurie Forino's team have now gone seven games without a win.

At the wrong end of the table a 5-1 home defeat at the hands of Exmouth Reserves has left Seaton Town Reserves staring relegation in the face.

The team will probably need to win at Lords XI on Saturday if they are to survive.

In division five Beer Albion Reserves were beaten 4-1 at Lapford and will hope for better when they travel to lowly St Martins Reserves at the weekend.

Over in the Perry Street league Millwey Rise dropped a place to eighth in the premier division following their 3-1 home defeat against Crewkerne Town.

Farway United mirrored that result against visiting Shepton Beauchamp with Steve Craft netting the consolation.

Millwey and Farway meet at Harry's Field tomorrow (6.15pm ko).

On Saturday Millwey entertain Shepton Beauchamp while Farway head off to Combe Reserves.

Millwey Rise Reserves' John Fowler cup final against Ilminster Town A at Bridport was postponed last Thursday with the hosts' Reserve team's county cup semi-final taking priority.

Rise travel to Drimpton on Saturday.
